

“Architecture and furniture which is made by architects”

2017.5.1 5114409 Sonoka Nakamura

(1) The way to investigate.

1) Try to investigate same architects and their furniture which is in same country and same age. And find out some points in common and difference.

i) Expectation

I think that the points in common result from their historical background, economy, or fashion. On the other hand, the points of difference become an individuality of architectures.

ii) Subjects

In 1950th, Denmark, and choose three architectures. Arne Jacobsen, Hans J Wegner, and Vilhelm Wohlert.

iii) Considerations

① The points in common

Hans J Wegner and Vilhelm Wohlert used traditional setup method using wood.

Hans J Wegner designed some furniture in a building which was designed by Arne Jacobsen.

Arne Jacobsen and Vilhelm Wohlert graduated from same college.

Arne Jacobsen and Hans J Wegner use new material to their furniture.

② The points of difference

Arne Jacobsen designed his furniture as same as he designed architecture.

Hans J Wegner made individualistic furniture after adopting Chinese chairs.

Vilhelm Wohlert used his ideology to design furniture and after that, he applied the furniture design to his architecture.

Finally, in this age and country, architectures use new material including traditional materials because of economic growth.

On the other hand, three architectures designed individually furniture using different kind of techniques.